

The ancient Maya built impressive cities and buildings. The corbel arch designed in the center of this mini book was used a lot by Maya builders. It was used to create doorways, corridors and peaked rooms. The corbel arch is an example of the technical skills of the Maya.

Write about their architecture, road building or impressive technical skills.

Depending on the level of your child, you can write on both inside pages or glue the picture inside and use the lines for writing.

Color this arch or leave it blank.
